

New Barter Technology Increases New Members, Trade Commissions and Transactions

TradeAway.com , a multi-billion dollar inventory barter site has introduced a revolutionary new technology to the barter industry that gives you the ability to do direct trades for the hard to get services and products like cars, boats, and yes, sometimes even groceries, gas and just about anything else (We have proven the technology and it works NOW). This technology also tracks your large client, multi-party, and complex barter transactions using the power of the computer and Internet as the platform. This technology not only provides all the sales and marketing materials needed to conduct this "off or on-line" ability to barter, but also produces the most complex multi-legged and highest dollar volume of transactions that could possibly take place.

We recently "closed" a 28-way exchange balancing equities involving cars, horse trailers, many service company vouchers, snow-mobles, motor homes, horses, a mule, web development, radio advertising, restaurant credit, sea food, groceries and much more. This all took place at a recent "barter auction" we held using this new technology. You have never seen anything that will help the barter industry grow faster than this new, patent pending MarketMaker, TradeTracker Technology.

Market-Maker gives the trade associations the ability to create a larger and growing supply of diverse products, greater inventories and intercity reciprocal agreements while improving profitability and accumulating capital faster. Consequently, it also brings you new prospects that could ultimately join your exchange that would have never done so without the positive experience of bartering on a direct level and learning the benefits of barter first hand.

Trade associations and independent trade brokers realize benefits by; having the opportunity to introduce trade to non-members, increasing membership, creating larger one-time trades, increasing the diversity of the products offered, trading with members and non-members at the same time facilitating intercity trades with other associations, using cash instead of trade dollars (to balance equities) and creating enthusiasm within their trading associations.

You can have all these benefits, create new members, make more profits and fill your inventories with services and product like you never had before by using the MarketMaker Technology. The monthly cost is probably less than you will receive from gaining one new member a month, which we can show you how to do with guaranteed results if you follow the proven techniques.
